2026-2027

WHY EDUCATORS AND DISTRICTS CHOOSE IMSE'S PRACTICUMS

IMSE's Interventionist and Specialist practicums support the high-fidelity implementation of IMSE's Structured Literacy-aligned instruction. Participants enter each practicum with a strong instructional foundation from the corresponding pre-practicum coursework and work closely with a dedicated practicum supervisor who provides ongoing feedback, instructional resources, and individualized support to ensure effective and faithful implementation of IMSE's intervention strategies.

Upon successful completion of the practicum and certification requirements, graduates gain access to the following benefits:

- A direct pathway to the International Dyslexia Association's Center for Effective Reading Instruction (CERI) certifications
- Recognition as IMSE Orton-Gillingham-certified educators, with listing on IMSE's website
- Eligibility for listing on the Learning Ally website as Orton-Gillingham-certified educators.

OVERVIEW OF THE TWO IMSE CERTIFICATION OPTIONS

- IMSE's Interventionist Certification: Those who complete IMSE's OG+ package and the Interventionist practicum will achieve the Interventionist Certification through IMSE and are also eligible to apply for CERI's Structured Literacy Dyslexia Interventionist certificate.
- IMSE's Specialist Certification: Those who have completed the IMSE's Interventionist Certification may work towards IMSE's Specialist Certification by completing the Morphology Plus package and the Specialist practicum. They will achieve the Specialist Certification through IMSE, and are also eligible to apply for CERI's Structured Literacy Dyslexia Specialist Certification.

APPLICATION WINDOW (see FAQs below)

IMSE's certification application window will be open from May 1 until August 30. All applications received within this window will receive equal consideration. An IMSE panel will review applications using an internal rubric to evaluate qualified applicants.

Participants must ensure consistent access to their practicum student for the full 12 months, with the exception of standard school vacation weeks and holidays.

How much time will I spend on the practicum each week?

This will vary depending on several factors. On average, participants can expect to spend five hours per week on their practicum. You may consider this process similar to a rigorous graduate-level course.

Do I have to wait for the acceptance notification to work with my students?

No, please begin working with your students as soon as you can. We never want to withhold academic support. Assessment should be well underway before notification of acceptance is received. You may begin drafting an Initial Assessment Report immediately or after consulting with your Practicum Supervisor, who will be assigned when you are accepted into the practicum. Other than assessment, no other work completed with your student before acceptance may be submitted for your practicum.

Can I work with students virtually?

Yes, practicum participants can work with students in person or virtually.

May I use IMSE's OG strategies without being certified?

The practicum is not required to begin using IMSE OG strategies with students. Educators are encouraged to apply the skills and materials gained from their training courses when providing reading instruction.

However, many educators choose to pursue certification for the added confidence that comes with supervised practice and the additional academic content that supports their professional or personal goals.

What credits are available for completing the practicum?

IMSE's practicums are approved for graduate credits through Ashland University in Ohio and Northwest Nazarene University in Idaho.

To be eligible for graduate credit, participants must complete all practicum requirements. For Interventionist participants, this includes passing the KPEERI exam; for Specialist participants, this includes passing the Specialist exam.

Graduate credit application instructions will be sent with your certification exit documents.
